

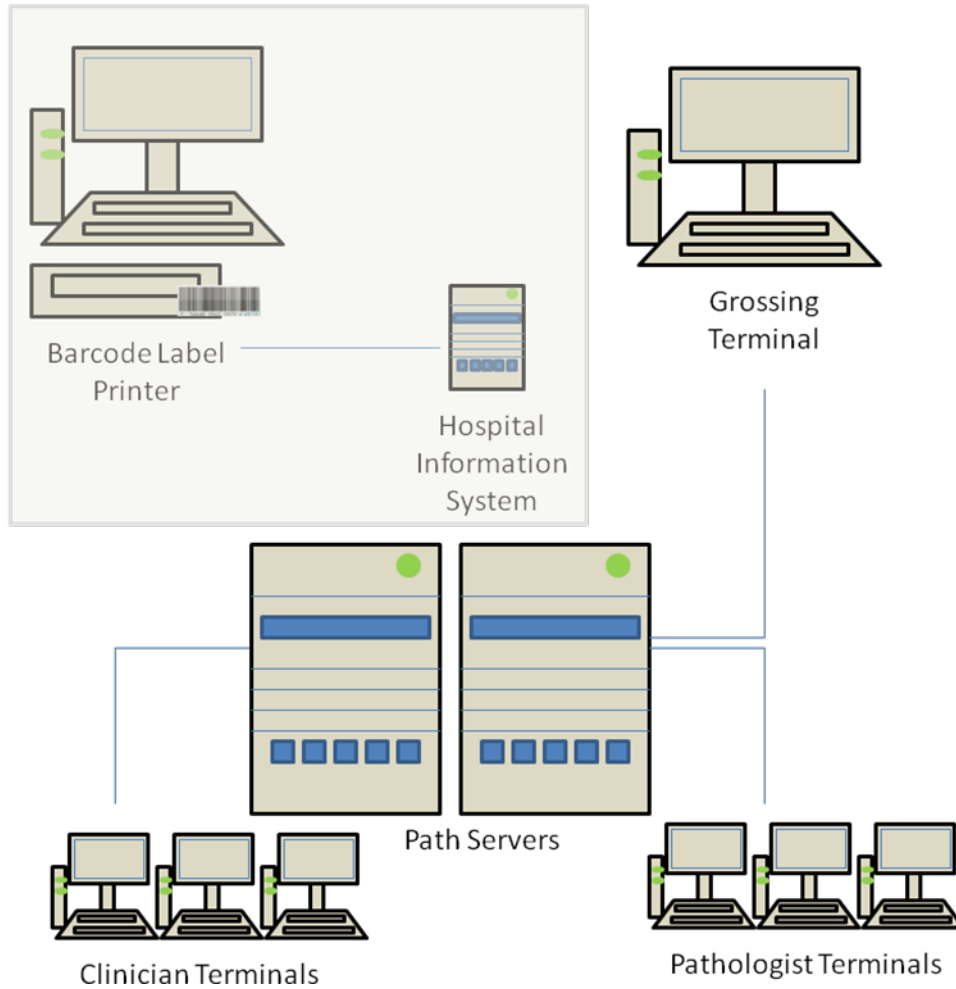

Figure 2

Information Technology Infrastructure for the Anatomic Pathology Reporting System

Note: The barcode generator and hospital information system are not part of the reporting system and are therefore surrounded by a gray box. They are, however, an integral part of the reporting process because the barcode contains patient details that are required throughout the reporting process.